THREE INJURED WHEN CAR AND TRUCK CRASH TUESDAY

Three persons were injured Tuesday afternoon when a truck and sedan collided near the Albert Kimball place, Robertson Hill. Miss Yolande Toussaint of Berlin, driver of the car, was taken by ambulance to a Berlin hospital. The truck was driven by Ben Worden of Norway, who was scratched when thrown through the windshield. Mrs. Worden suffered shock and bruises.

110 KILLED THIS YEAR BY CARS IN MAINE

For the nine months period this year, 110 people have been killed by automobiles on our streets and highways as compared to 119 for the same nine months a year ago. This is a decrease of 8% but it is still too many accidents. In 1941, for the same period, 148 people met death on our highways.

During the month of September this year, as a result of 14 fatal accidents, 14 people were killed. There were 7 drivers, 2 of which were riding motor-bikes, 5 pedestrians, 1 bicycle rider and 1 passenger.

It appears a word of warning must be issued to riders of motor-bikes. You must remember that when you put a motor on a bicycle you no longer have a bicycle but a motor vehicle. It must conform to all the rules and regulations pertaining to motor vehicles. The operator must be licensed as well as the vehicle being registered. You need more time for stopping and must be more careful going around corners. Inspection of these motor-bikes will be required the same as any motor vehicle.

Six of these accidents occurred during the daylight hours and 8 after dark. This means you must slow down after sun down. When you are over-driving your headlights you are driving into the unknown. Now that the hours of darkness come on early, you should make proper allowances for night driving at a slower speed.

The causes of these accidents consist of four pedestrians being directly at fault. Six accidents involved liquor, one was caused by defective equipment (brakes), and the other involved speed. Every one of the above causes could have been eliminated. With this elimination, 14 people would have been alive today. For instance, the pedestrian has the best opportunity in the world to protect himself if pedestrians would only stop stepping out from between parked cars or carry something white at night or be alert when walking or crossing the streets and highways, he could save his life by keeping out of the path of automobiles.

"What about liquor?" It is absolutely unnecessary to drink and then drive. There is an old saying that goes like this: "There is a time and place for everything. The time and place to drink intoxicating liquor is not when you are going to drive a motor vehicle. This cause should be stricken from our list of causes. This could be made possible if everyone who drives would refuse to drink, or if they drink, refuse to drive.

Speed to everyone is an old story. How fast is too fast? When you cannot stop within half the distance you can see ahead, you are driving at a speed too fast to have your car under control. At 40 mph you are traveling 59 feet a second. With good brakes on a good pavement with normal reaction, it will take 126 feet in which to stop your vehicle. 126 feet is a long distance if you should be confronted with an emergency.

Eleven of these accidents occurred in rural areas and three in urban sections. This proves definitely that the higher speeds in the rural areas are more dangerous. Remember, the faster you are going the harder you hit an object. The observance of the new law compelling motorists to dim their lights could be improved a great deal. Reports coming to this office seem to indicate there is a lack of knowledge concerning this law. PLEASE dim your lights when meeting approaching motorists.

Now that the schools are all opened, please remember the 15 mile speed limit in school zones, during opening and closing hours and recess. When our children forget, we must remember for them. No one wants to be involved in an accident. When you come right down to it, nobody needs to be involved in an accident. Let's all resolve to arrive in such a manner that there won't be accidents. LT. GEORGE F. SHAW, Director, Division of Traffic & Safety, Maine State Police.

TWO FIRES WEDNESDAY—CHIEF ASKS LOCAL BAN

A loss of about $200 was reported in a fire which destroyed a hay barn belonging to Charles Mason at Locke Mills Wednesday afternoon. The Bethel firemen were called and water was obtained by jamming a brook. The house nearby was saved.

Returning from the Locke Mills fire the crew went to a woods fire in Albany. This fire, apparently set by sparks from a tractor on a logging job, burned over about 10 acres before it was controlled.

It is requested by Fire Chief Lloyd Luxton that no fires be started or leaves burned until there has been enough rainfall to end the present extreme fire hazards.

RUMFORD HOSPITAL BENEFIT

Bethel plans a Gift and Craft Shop for the fair to be held for the benefit to the Rumford Community Hospital. This fair will occur in Nov. 6 at the Rumford Armory as in former years.

The committee in charge this year will be Mrs. Willard Boynton, Mrs. Norris Brown, Mrs. Paul Thurston, Mrs. G. L. Thurston, Mrs. Elwood F. Ireland, Mrs. Lawrence Lord, Mrs. Herbert Rowe, Mrs. Gayle Foster, Mrs. J. A. Matheson, Mrs. Charles Gorman.

There will be chances sold on a Boston rocker and a large smoked ham. These articles will be displayed at the Boscarnan Drug Store.

In place of a house to house canvass, donors are asked to leave their contributions in the boxes provided in Bethel and West Bethel stores, or to contact committee members.

The success of the booth depends on the generosity of the townspeople.

Please take this into consideration soon so that the committee may be encouraged by your response and that our shop may be a greater success than in former years.

LISBON FALLS AT GOULD SATURDAY

The open date which Gould Academy had almost dispensed of filling has resulted in a game with Lisbon Falls High to be played at Bethel. The game is scheduled to start at 2 p.m. on Alumni Field.

After two defeats Coach Scott's team came through with a victory over St. Johnsbury last Saturday and they hope to continue their winning ways. The starting line up came through last week's game in good condition, except for a rib injury to Captain Bennett. Whether he will be able to start against Lisbon is not known. His loss would be keenly felt as his work as center angling up the line has been a tower of strength to the Huskies.

This will be the first appearance of a Lisbon team here, as they have been playing six-man football up until this season. The visitors will arrive Saturday morning and will be guests of the Academy for lunch.

Rodd starred for the St. Johnsbury team but Wright and Dumas played great ball, too.

The opposing centers, Bennett of Gould and Gray of St. J., both captains of their teams, played the entire game and were great defensive players.

Both teams made 14 first downs. The summary:

Gould (12)	St. Johnsbury (7)

HIGHLIGHTS HERE 'N THERE

WHY A NEWSPAPER QUIT

The Elmira, New York, News, recently quit publication, and in a final editorial the owners told why. It was because they could no longer endure the conditions imposed on the paper by the strong typographical union.

Before it would renew an expiring contract, the union demanded that the publisher of the News sign a document called "Conditions of Employment." That document did a great deal more than put into effect new wage scales, increased vacation privileges, etc. It made it possible for the printers to walk off the job if anything happened which wasn't to their liking. As the editor wrote, "We had the feeling that to agree to it would be un-American and cowardly. A demand for increased wages is one thing, but to agree to many provisions in the document in question would be like lying down to enable a bully to kick you with greater facility."

"There is undoubtedly coming a time when arrogant union leaders will have to consider the problems of the fellow who has to dig up the money to meet the payrolls to pay the men agitators represent, but that time is not here and we do not intend to risk bankruptcy waiting for that time."

"We're damned well sick, to boot, of having to treat with the average present-day union labor leader in order to stay in business."

The rank and file of union labor, whether it works at the printing trades or anything else, wants steady employment and good pay and conditions. It doesn't want employers to be forced out of business by union exercises. But too many of the leaders of labor have the men-talities of dictators. Their lust for power knows no bounds. And that, in the long run, will make serious trouble for the workers, no less than the employers, of this country.

PIPER MUST BE PAID

The large wage increase recently granted railroad workers has seriously complicated the railroad rate situation.

Last July, the railroads filed a petition with the Interstate Commerce Commission for rate increases. The petition specifically pointed out that the increases then asked were based upon current costs of operation, and would necessarily have to be amended should those costs rise in the future. It is now estimated that, since July 3, increases in wages and in the costs of material and supplies have added about $425,000,000 a year to railroad operating expenses. As a result, the railroads filed a supplemental petition with the ICC on September 6 requesting further rate increases needed to offset the sharp cost rise that took place in the preceding two months.

This, of course, will delay the ICC in making its decision, in that a mass of factual testimony submitted by the railroads must now be extensively revised in the light of current conditions. The lines, therefore, have made the further request that they be allowed to immediately put into effect a temporary increase of not less than 10 per cent of their freight rates and charges. "This increase is to remain in effect until a new permanent rate structure is approved by the Commission."

There should be no delay in authorizing the temporary increase.

which has been asked. Railway labor is now getting its higher wages, and the lines are paying more for every thing they buy. Yet going freight rates are little above the prewar figure. The lines are thus caught in an impossible economic squeeze which, if continued, would imperil the standards of railroad service and prevent needed expansion and betterment of facilities. Immediate rate relief for this vital industry is a must.

Today, all over the world, irreligion marches shoulder to shoulder with violence and unrest. Totalitarian Revolution, imbued with godless ideologies, sweeps the globe in arrogant, unholy triumph.

If we are to preserve what we believe in the essence of civilization, to regain and hold the full measure of sacred liberties and maintain the dignity of man, we must encourage, aid and abet a more sober realization of the indispensable influence of The Word of God in our every day life.

For his own sake, his family, community, State and the Nation, National Bible Week merits the recognition of every American who, irrespective of class, creed or color, loves liberty and would do his full part under God. Sponsored by the Laymen's National Committee, Vanderbilt Hotel, New York.

by Governor Horace Hildreth

One of the most difficult problems that faces a Governor in the appointment of citizens to our various Commissions and Boards.

As you may know, except for these posts that are filled by legislative appointments, namely the State Auditor, Treasurer, Commissioner of Agriculture, Attorney General and Secretary of State, the remainder of our top State officials are nominated by the Governor, subject to confirmation by the Executive Council.

These department heads and members of Commissioners and Boards are important to every citizen of the State, for they administer the laws under which we live.

For that reason, probably more time is consumed by a Governor in appraising the qualities of men and women for these appointive positions than any other phase of his administration.

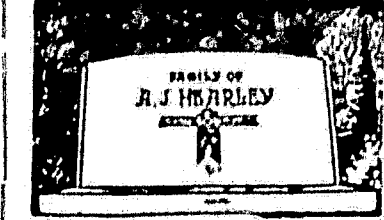

It has been my policy since I have been Governor, with other factors equal, to apportion these appointments as fairly as possible among the three Congressional Districts. I have felt very strongly that our best brains are not confined to any one section of this State. We have able men and women in every part of Maine and I have tried to keep that thought constantly in mind. As a result, since I have been in

GOULD ACADEMY

Under perfect weather conditions the annual Parents' Day program, Saturday, Oct. 11, was enjoyed by about 150 parents from Bethel and from all of the New England States. Opening with a monster rally and bonfire for the student body and early arrivals on Friday evening, Saturday morning was spent in visiting Gould's buildings; the Gould-St. Johnsbury football game, ending in a Gould victory in a close, hardfought game, was followed by tea at the headmaster's home, where Headmaster and Mrs. Elwood F. Ireland were assisted by Mrs. Paul Thurston and Mrs. Edmond Vachon. A "cook-out" behind the Gehring Hall followed, and the day was climaxed by games, in which parents and their children vied with each other, with Marion Stallwood and Richmond Roderick as mistress-master of ceremonies, a magic show by John Patterson, and school motion pictures, with a bit of square dancing to furnish a strenuous climax to a full day's program.

The Gould sophomore class has elected the following officers for the coming year: president, Dick Marshall, Lisbon; vice-president, Doris Wermenchuk, Bethel; secretary, Laura Bennett, Bethel; treasurer, Merle Noyes, Locke Mills.

The destruction by fire of our natural and created resources has almost doubled during the past decade and cost the United States more than $580,000,000 in 1946.

*Increases since 1939, from Department of Labor Index for moderate income families in large cities, and from National Housing Agency.

SOME PEOPLE get along under higher prices by using less or doing without. Some have more income to help meet higher costs. All can adjust output to income, to a large extent.

But a railroad cannot skimp or do without and still provide good, efficient and safe service—adequate to the needs and desires of the public.

The chart at left shows why the Eastern Railroads have had to ask for an increase in freight rates. The simple reason is that the increases allowed since 1939 are nowhere near enough to meet today's costs. The revenue the railroads get for hauling the average ton of freight is only 15% more, whereas the cost of operating the railroads has increased more than 63% in that period.

Only recently, for instance, an arbitration board added another $468,000,000 to our annual bill for wages and wage taxes, of which $187,000,000 is borne by the Eastern Railroads. This brings the increase in these items alone to more than 75% since 1939.

All the railroads ask is what the law says they should be allowed to have. That means just and reasonable rates. The law says there is need in the public interest for adequate and efficient railway transportation service at the lowest cost consistent with furnishing such service.

In other words, all the railroads ask is sufficient revenue to enable them, under honest, economical and efficient management, to provide the kind of service people want.

Some examples of increased costs since 1939, affecting railroad operation

Increased freight rates since 1939 have increased the revenue from hauling the average ton of freight one mile

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

The big word in Great Britain today is "austerity." But it is the one word that the folks there figured was out the window and gone forever and belonged in there among the dead language archives, when they listened and voted in their socialist Govt. Great Britain was to flow with milk and honey. That is what was promised—that is what did not happen, as the Govt. took over the coal business and every other business, almost. But you can say this much for "austerity"—if it has to happen to somebody, it is best to have it happen elsewhere versus to you.

But I am sorry for the British. I am sorry for any sucker who gets took-in—and to the cleaner. I am on this subject because we are not so far removed from being a bit none too alert our ownself here in this grand and noble land. Look at TVA and the Bonneville dam, and 25 other dams. All were built under the false pretenses of being built to control floods. The low-down, is, they are a socialistic big toe in our door.

The British listened with big ears to sweet but filmy words—they are now pullin' in the old belt. Austerity is a sour dish.

Me and Paul Revere, we ride up and down, warning the natives—the natives have gotta do the shootin'.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

World Council Will Stand Or Fall on Public Opinion

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—Here are some more notes from a reporter's notebook (of course, reporters don't really carry notebooks—they write on whatever is handy—this is a menu) at the United Nations.

Some of the people who are reading this column attended sessions of the United Nations. I think I recognized some of you. It was hard to get in because so many nations felt this session was so important that they brought much larger staffs than ever before. These "extra" workers couldn't sit in the seats reserved for delegates, nor the news people's, so they were given seats ordinarily handed out to the public.

For those of you who stayed home and listened to the radio or read the reports in the paper—well, what impression did you get?

Your impression is highly important, as I'll try to point out later. There was, and is, this danger, which Trygve Lie, secretary general of the United Nations, pointed out in a speech which stirred all the delegates who heard it (and you, too, I imagine, if you were listening) when he summarized it afterward over the ABC network.

Lie said: "...the peoples of the world, and many governments as well, are shocked, frightened and discouraged to find that those same nations which created the United Nations so openly disagree." He called for a rebirth of the "San Francisco spirit," the spirit which we all felt in those hopeful days when the United Nations was born.

A colleague of mine, a most restrained and thoughtful commentator (Pauline Frederick, with considerable experience here and abroad) told me something which is worth repeating. She was interviewing Eleanor Roosevelt at a luncheon at Hyde Park. Whatever you may think of Mrs. Roosevelt's domestic politics you must know in what high regard she is held as a member of the American delegation to the United Nations.

My colleague asked her if her heart weren't heavy over the world situation today. I haven't her exact words here, but Mrs. Roosevelt replied in the negative. She said we had expected too much too soon from the United Nations. And then she went on to point out what so many of the delegates have said, namely, that faulty and ineffective as the United Nations may be, it is far better than nothing. How many times have I heard that from even the most cynical of the reporters and observers here!

As the New York Times remarked in a recent editorial, "it cannot be stressed too often that the struggle brought to a head in this session of the general assembly is not against the Soviet Union but FOR the United Nations." The most striking thing, the editorial added, is "the determination of the United Nations (that means the member nations) to survive."

One strange phenomenon which appears to persons not too well acquainted with the ways of such gatherings is the friendly and entirely normal manner in which the delegates to the United Nations who attend each other on the rostrum, consort in the corridors and lounges provided in the two buildings which now temporarily house the executive council and the general assembly, respectively. That's nothing new to people who have covered congress.

Dispensing of News Is Vital to U. N.

The longer I serve, covering these meetings, the more I realize that the most important of all the groups, not excluding the delegates themselves, are those which serve to dispense the news and information concerning the United Nations.

It would be impossible, of course, for enough people to visit the sessions to affect public opinion greatly. But many of the people who do come go back with a message which attracts great interest in the organization in their communities. Proof of this interest was contained in the report of the secretary general, Lie, when he said that information had been sent out and other steps taken in cooperation with a thousand meetings in the past year.

But more important than anything else are the actual reports of press and radio direct from one or the other of the two headquarters, or as a result of the many interviews with members of the permanent secretariat.

Here is what they've done with radio alone:

During the general assembly, the radio division of the department of public information will broadcast for 12 hours a day, while visiting radio commentators, using facilities leased by the United Nations, will cover the debates for listeners in 16 countries.

The French, Spanish, Chinese and Russian sections of the radio division also are preparing to broadcast adaptations of one of the U. N. programs which will be offered in transcription to stations unable to relay the original broadcast.

The two services most widely relayed, because of the high quality of reception, are those in Spanish (to Latin America) and in Chinese. The programs all carry the latest news on work of the assembly and other United Nations bodies, interviews with delegates, background talks, recorded excerpts from speeches in debate and short features.

As the bickering and obstructionism increased at the current session and it became clear that confidence in the United Nations was being undermined, the importance of the work of the agencies distributing information concerning the topics discussed by the general assembly, became more and more evident. The reason was this: It became clear that under the present structure of the United Nations, where a unanimous agreement on the part of the major powers before major steps could be taken, is required, the only force behind the whole idea is the force of public opinion.

TRYGVE LIE

As this is being written, the question of the report of a committee on tele-communications is being discussed. The plans envisioned by the men on the United Nations who realize the importance of strengthening the opinion-forming force of the organization, are not too grandiose to be practical but they do involve expenses which make their completion uncertain. Nations of the world are all feeling the pinch of poverty and there is a strong move to cut expenses.

A part of the tele-communications plan was a radio network which would dispense objective world news for all the world. To show you how well the meagre efforts along those lines already have succeeded, I was told by the radio liaison division that even the Russian reporters who, as you know, work for newspapers which are under a strict censorship, which permit no news which doesn't suit their needs, have begun to ask for items issued by the United Nations because they are so fair, so objective that no one could accuse them of containing propaganda for any one nation.

The men on the staff of the United Nations are not all perfect. There are a number of weak sisters. But on the whole, it is surprising to see how the majority of them have been able to develop a world wide viewpoint, an attitude whose whole policy is based on world understanding and the perpetuation of peace.

SAME AS IN 500 A.D.

Pacific Journey Made on Raft

Dr. Thor Heyerdahl, 32-year-old Norwegian ethnologist and zoologist, had a theory that the first Polynesians were blue-eyed blondes who floated over to their Pacific islands from South America on rafts in about the year 500 A. D.

What he did about proving that theory now is history. He and a party of six men built themselves a primitive raft of bamboo and balsa wood, climbed aboard and set themselves adrift at Callao, Peru.

Exactly 101 days later the scientific group drifted ashore on their raft, the Kon-Tiki, at Raroia reef in the Tuamotu archipelago, center of their target. They had used no

PAST AND PRESENT PRESIDENTS... Unusual indeed is a picture of the President of the United States chatting with a predecessor in his office. The occasion here was the naming by President Truman of former President Hoover to the chairmanship of a 12-man commission to study plans for reorganizing the federal government.

NEWS REVIEW

Urge Food Conservation; New Battle Shakes U.N.

DIETETICS:

Waste Less

Lips that sincerely frame the words "food conservation" will not touch such sturdy edibles as meat, poultry and eggs quite so often hereafter.

Charles Luckman, head of President Truman's citizens food committee, opened the widely heralded "waste less" campaign by calling on the American people to cut their consumption of these three items, thereby effecting a conservation of grain for Europe.

At the same time, it was disclosed that stop-gap aid for Europe this winter may run as much as 800 million dollars—220 million more than Mr. Truman had estimated earlier.

The appeal for Americans to cut down on the amount of foods requiring grain feeding was couched in a five-point program which, if followed, will eliminate the traditional race for the last chop on the platter—it won't be there.

Those five dietetic commandments were: 1) Buy cheaper meat cuts; 2) Don't serve too much; 3) Don't overcook meat; 4) Use leftovers; 5) Save wheat in all other possible ways.

In the future was the possibility that a voluntary program of meatless days and a reduction in the size of bread loaves would be put into effect.

NEW FIGHT:

Recalls Yalta

In the U. N. another scarehead of possible failure and collapse of that organization arose as the U. S. and Russia plunged into a new skirmish.

The issue: Which nation shall succeed in Poland on the security council. Poland has represented eastern Europe and the Slav bloc for two years. Russia wants the Ukraine, which, although an independent part of the Soviet Union, have a separate U. N. delegation. U. S. contention is that the Ukraine is a sovereign nation, therefore does not rate a separate status.

In the background of the affair was the Stalin-Roosevelt Yalta agreement which gave the Soviet Union three votes in the United Nations. Russia proper, the Ukraine and White Russia each has one.

How the USSR came to get three votes probably happened something like this: Both the Ukraine and White Russia, intensely nationalistic, did not like to lose their identities by being merged with greater Russia. The Communist politburo, therefore, as a sop to their nationalism, granted the two territories a sort of nominal independence.

At Yalta, then, Stalin told Roosevelt that he wanted the Ukraine and White Russia to be represented in the U. N. for "internal reasons." F.D.R., being an old politician and sympathetic with "national" difficulties, agreed.

Thus, the stage was set for one of the most serious battles yet to develop within the United Nations.

Income Disparities

"Real income" of wage and salary earners continues to drop, while farmers' income still is rising. It has been revealed by a monthly investors syndicate survey of purchasing power. "Real income" is the relationship of revenue to the cost of living.

Wage and salary earners now have only about 96 cents of buying power for each dollar a year ago, while farmers have approximately $1.09.

At the same time, the biggest cause of the wage earners' problem is the sharp rise in the price of food. The average family now pays more than $1.31 for the same amount of food that a dollar bought a year ago. It also pays $1.06 for each dollar on rent, $1.18 to the 1946 dollar for clothing and $1.23 for miscellaneous expenses.

"This continued divergence between farm and city buying power," the survey pointed out, "indicates that a serious unbalance may threaten the stability of our economy. A close balance is essential."

RECOGNITION:

Playing Safe

Not as a gesture of approval, but rather as a means of keeping informed of internal developments did the United States grant full diplomatic recognition to the Communist-dominated government of Bulgaria.

Robert A. Lovett, U. S. acting secretary of state, said that the action meant neither that this country approved nor condoned "certain recent actions of the Bulgarian government."

Although he did not say so, Lovett obviously referred to Bulgaria's execution of Nikola Petkov, leader of the opposition to the Communists. Previously, recognition of the Bulgarian government was withheld on the grounds that the pro-Soviet regime had been elected unfairly. But now the U. S. felt that it was more important to have an embassy in the country to protect American interests there.

LITTLE HOPE:

Less Coal

There is little or no hope springing in the collective breast of official Washington that the coal shortage this winter can be averted.

Current estimates place coal production as running several million tons a month behind exports and domestic consumption, principally because of the coal car shortage. This has resulted in winter stockpiles depreciating instead of growing, as they normally would.

It was hoped at first that some relief would come when winter weather set in and curtains road-building and construction, thus permitting dilation of sand and gravel cars to the coal fields. However, a railroad spokesman said the diversion of such cars would do nothing but offset a normal 10 per cent drop in railroad efficiency in winter.

The Golden Text is: "The preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God" (1 Corinthians 1:18).

The citations from the Bible include the following passages: "For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ, Who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him" (1 Thessalonians 5: 9-10).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following selections from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Whosoever believeth that wrath is righteous or that divinity is appeased by human suffering, does not understand God. Justice requires reformation of the sinner. Wrath which is only appeased is not destroyed, but partially indulged. Wisdom and Love may require many sacrifices of self to save us from sin. One sacrifice, however great, is insufficient to pay the debt of sin. The atonement requires constant self-immolation on the sinner's part. St. Paul wrote: 'Let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us; that is, let us put aside material self and sense, and seek the divine Principle and Science of all heal-
